IV. ACTION/DISCUSSION ITEMS

A. The Academic Senate reviewed and discussed draft 11 of the MJC Draft Criteria for Program Productivity/Viability produced by IAC. John Zamora noted that Dr. James Fay has removed many of the items that were a cause of concern and discussed at the last Senate meeting. At the May 17, 2012 Senate meeting, the Senate had directed the Exec Board to meet with Administration to continue the Program Viability discussion. John Zamora noted that the Exec Board has not accomplished this request, as of yet. Adrienne Peek asked why we are discussing a separate viability process, when we already have a process in place. Allan answered, “I think given the discussion last time, the Exec Committee has been tasked with trying to straighten that out and clarify it. My sense is that it has not been addressed. That is the question that Exec is supposed to go in and ask.” Burt shook asked, “Is this an attempt to substitute the current procedures and processes?” John Zamora said that he hopes not. John stated that in his opinion, he thinks that people are scrambling to try to deal with a perceived problem in regard to budget. John made a point that he doesn’t see money as a problem but as a solution. John said that we need to work with Administration to achieve clarity on this issue.

Kevin Alavezos noted that when looking at the document created by IAC, he did not see an acceptable range, number, or what exactly one would compare the program to. Kevin said that he does not see an explanation anywhere in this document. Jennifer Hamilton agreed with Kevin. Jennifer said there was a lack of definition that is problematic.

James Todd mentioned that Exec members had discussed creating a task force to analyze the spreadsheets created by Brian Sanders. John Zamora noted that on page five of the Academic Senate minutes from May 17th, a link to SharePoint and the spreadsheets in question are available. James Todd encouraged that there be a broad representation of faculty on the proposed task force.

Brian Sinclair said that he thought there is probably a good-faith effort on administration to solve a problem, but Brian was not clear on what that problem is exactly. Brian said it is our responsibility to come up with some other solutions. Brian said the intent of the criteria in question needs to be established. Brian stated, “We have a mission. We ought to maintain all of our programs to serve that mission unless their viability isn’t there; if that is the case then we involve the process. If in a pinch we need to cancel programs, we will talk about that as an institution with consultation, faculty, and we will do what we need to do. We can make the hard decisions. I don’t think that anyone is being vindictive here, but we are going towards a bad direction with this.”

Allan McKissick added the following motion:

_The Academic Senate President is directed to form a task force to review and analyze data gathered that are related to program viability and possible program elimination. The task force will make recommendations to the Academic Senate relating to such data and on a shared governance approach to program viability/elimination consistent with Academic Senate purview over curriculum._

Allan said that his motion directly relates to what Senate Exec was directed to do at the last Academic Senate meeting. Burt Shook wanted to make sure that in terms of the motion, it is assumed that everything occurs within the umbrella of the current Academic Senate viability procedure. Allan said that this is the intent.
Paul Cripe said that we are at least a year behind. Paul stated he thinks that they are in data collection mode right now. Paul noted that we are looking at millions and millions of dollars in cuts. Paul said that when it comes to millions and millions of dollars in cuts, it is eventually going to be people that are cut. Paul asked, “After they collect all this data, then what happens? What do we want our college to look like?” In terms of the motion, Paul stated that it better involve more than just analyzing the data. Paul encouraged that the task force also have representatives that look at the bigger picture of what we want our college to look like. Paul stated, “No matter how much we want to have control of our own destiny, this thing that we are going through is something slightly different than program viability. It is more like program slashing. Important things are going to disappear in this process.”

James Varble, ASMJC, added that he thought creation of a task force for the short-term is a good idea, but the task force should be a permanent campus-wide committee.

M/S/C (Allan McKissick, Adrienne Peek) to approve the motion.

B. Allan McKissick provided the Senate with a document titled as, “Description of the Academic Senate for the MJC Participatory Decision-Making Handbook.” Allan asked the Senators to carefully read the document through. Allan noted that the only changes/additions made were to the following:

- Section 2: Core Values (Newly Added)

IAC/AIE
John Zamora reported that James Todd will fill in as the Faculty Assessment Coordinator for the Assessment Work Group temporarily through the first week of August.

John reported that Eva Mo has information to provide in regards to Accreditation. Eva stated that there is a demand for assessing authenticity of a student’s work in an online format. Eva said that the criteria is much higher for online than it is for on-campus work. Eva said we need to start thinking about how we assess authenticity for Distance Education. Eva stated that the Distance Education Committee has started this conversation, and they would like the Senate to discuss and provide direction on the next steps of action to address this important Accreditation issue.

Eva also reported another important issue for the Senate to address. Eva reported that she thinks there is a problem of cheating—not just at MJC but nationwide. Eva recently attended a webinar that discussed statistics on cheating. Eva exclaimed that she was shocked to hear that between 60 and 80% of college students surveyed, had answered that they cheated in school. Ninety percent of those who had cheated had also answered that they had done nothing wrong. Eva said that this issue of integrity needs to be addressed in some way here at Modesto Junior College and the Yosemite Community College District.
