Paul Espinoza

Paul began playing guitar at age 15 and by the time he was 16 he was writing songs and performing in coffeehouses and folk clubs. After several years of performing as a soloist, with a folk trio and later in a rock and roll band, Paul joined forces with Margie Butler and they began performing as a duo in 1976. In 1980 they formed Golden Bough. Paul has been playing guitar for 45 years and teaching for nearly as long. Besides performing in concert and working in the recording studio, Paul has worked with children in school, church and community groups, among his favorite activities. He has taught songs and given music lessons to these groups, leading them in various performance situations.
