College Governance Councils

There are six councils at MJC. The College Council is the highest level college governance council, responsible for making recommendations to the College President. Five councils make recommendations to the College Council to support institutional effectiveness and participatory decision-making. The governance councils are Accreditation Council, Facilities Council, Instruction Council, Resource Allocation Council, and Student Services Council.

Representatives will be appointed by the constituency group they represent according to the processes established by that constituency. Any one individual may hold no more than two representative roles and will have only one vote.

Governance councils will be considered to have a quorum when more than 50% of the members are present. Decision-making may be either by consensus or by vote. In either option, members have the opportunity to submit a dissenting opinion or clarification in writing for inclusion in the minutes.
